the3million newsletter

Dear EU citizen,

We have several updates for you this week about changes to our board and the progress of our campaigns.

Welcoming our new Chair of the3million's Board of Directors, Kasia Durma

Kasia first joined the3million's Board in December 2025, bringing with her a wealth of experience in governance, strategic planning, organisational culture and human resources.

With Kasia's appointment we are also sad to say farewell to our former Chair, Lara Parizotto, who has served on the Board since August 2024. Lara has made a significant contribution to the3million's work during her time on the Board, bringing her expertise in migrant justice, democratic participation and campaigning. She has also been closely involved in work to ensure that migrants and EU citizens are able to have their voices heard in decisions that affect their lives.

You can read more about Kasia's appointment and Lara leaving here.

Update on the Civil Aviation Bill

The Transport Minister has responded to the joint letter from the3million and ILPA, which asked the Government to introduce an amendment to the Civil Aviation Bill offering better consumer protections for eVisa holders.

The Minister's response suggests that the Civil Aviation Bill gives more powers to introduce secondary legislation to provide protections in the future, but states that the Government will not amend the Bill now, nor does it commit to introducing such secondary legislation.

The Minister's response was not what we had wished for, but there is still hope. We need to keep trying to persuade backbenchers to lay an amendment, so that Parliament can debate eVisa protections.

There is still time to contact your MP to urge them to support changes to the compensation protections for everyone who holds an eVisa via Backbench amendments. You can read more about our campaign here.

What to do if Home Office says your EUSS status was granted in error

The Home Office is telling some people that their status under the EU Settlement Scheme was granted in error, putting their rights at risk. We're challenging this policy, and have published guidance explaining what you can do if you've received a letter or email from the Home Office. Find out more about your rights and how to protect them.

Have your say in EU legislation
EU citizens in the UK still have the right to have a say in EU legislation. Under the European Citizen Initiatives (ECI) one million signatures of EU citizens within a year obligates the European Commission to provide a formal reply and possible legislation to that particular issue.

The "We are the 1 Million" project launched by Volt Europa wants to build a million strong community to fast-track signature collection and allow citizens to have more influence on EU legislation that today influences our rights within and also beyond the European Union.

Yours in solidarity
